Idiom Technologies and SYSTRAN Partner to Deliver a One-Stop Solution for Corporations

SYSTRAN's translation software integrated within Idiom WorldServer offers an efficient localization workflow

Waltham, Mass., San Diego, CA - May 3, 2007 - Idiom® Technologies, Inc. (Idiom), the leading independent supplier of SaaS and on-premise server-based globalization management systems (GMS), and SYSTRAN, the market leader in language translation software products and solutions, today announced the signing of a strategic marketing and technology integration agreement. The partnership offers customers access to the most widely used language translation software seamlessly integrated into their workflows to further refine and streamline the translation and localization processes.

SYSTRAN, the choice of leading global corporations, portals and governmental institutions, offers real-time translation solutions across more than fifty language pairs. The partnership with Idiom will make it easier for customers to integrate these capabilities and leverage SYSTRAN's advanced linguistic toolsuite within the end-to-end, customizable WorldServer workflow, offering a one-stop solution for translating, customizing and managing multilingual content.

“The partnership between Idiom and SYSTRAN is the result of a collaborative effort provided to a common customer which demonstrates that combining the two technologies offers a one-stop solution that increases productivity and minimizes costs,” said Reba Sitzer, of SYSTRAN. “The technology and time-saving workflow Idiom offers have revolutionized the industry, and together we are taking a next step to make our customers more productive.”

“SYSTRAN has a proven thirty-year plus track record, and our customers already rely on SYSTRAN solutions,” said Eric Richard, vice president of engineering, Idiom Technologies. “Integrating SYSTRAN within WorldServer lets us accomplish one of our core goals of giving our customers maximum drive and openness.”

SYSTRAN will be a featured sponsor and speaker at WorldSummit 2007, the upcoming Idiom Technologies user conference (May 1-3 in San Diego, Calif., <http://www.idiominc.com/worldsummit2007/>).
